Railroad Matters.

THE PROPOSED EXTENSION OF THE MIDLAND ROAD INTO NORTH CAROLINA-THE SHENAN-DOAR VALLEY ROAD.

[Bahimore Sun, 14th.]
The committee appointed by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Baltimore city, of which Mr. John E. Hurst is chairman, to confer with the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company relative to the extension southward of the Virginia Midland railroad, met yesterday at Camden Station. There were present: Messrs. John King, Jr., William Keyser, and Robert Garrett, vice-presidents of the Bultimore and Ohio Railroad Company; Mr. John S. Barbour, president of the Virginia Midland rallroad, and members of the ginia Midland rallroad, and members of the committee referred to—namely, Messrs. John E. Hurst, William H. Baidwin, Jr., Daniel J. Foley, H. G. Penniman, and Ger-man H. Hunt. Mr. John R. Biand, secretaman H. Hunt. ry of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, was also present. No definite action was taken. All the parties to the conference were impressed with the imcould be attained. Various maps were ex-hibited, and on these were shown how certain strips of railroads in North Carolina and South Carolina might be connected by lines of railroads, but just what these were the chairman of the committee of conference did not feel at liberty to make public, The prospects for an independent line to the South from Baltimore are believed to be encouraging. The railroads represented in the conference desire it, the merchants and manufacturers of Baitmore want it, and the people of the South favor it. The question is, Who will build it?

MORE RAILROAD CONNECTION WITH THE BOUTH.

The Western Maryland Railroad Company and the Shenandoah Valley Railroad Company have entered into an arrangement by which a through line is formed between Baltimore and points on the Shenandoah Valley road and its connections. The Shenandoah Valley railroad has been completed from Hagerstown, Md., where it connects with the Western Maryland railroad, to Waynesboro', Va., on the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, a distance of one hundred and forty-four miles, and will be opened its entire present length on Monday, April 18th. It is proposed to extend the benandoah Valley railroad at once from Waynesboro', Va., to a co Atlantic, Mississippi and Onio railroad, now the Norfolk and Western, thus open-ing up another through line between Batti-Through passenger schedules will be arranged as soon as practicable, as well as every facility afforded for the prompt move ment of freight. It is expected that through express trains will be run by daylight over this route between Baltimore and White Sulphur Springs during the coming summer.

Cadet Buck Not Guilty.
THE SHOOTING OF HON. JOHN G. THOMPSON'S SON-WHY IT WAS DONE.

NEWBURG, N. Y., April 13 .- The trial of Beaumont B. Buck, the cadet at West Point from Texas, charged with shooting John G. Thompson, Jr., of Ohlo, at Highland Falls in June last, has been in progress here today before Justice Cullen, of the Supreme Court. Much interest is manifested. The court-room was crowded, many ladies being present. The winesses included a number of West Point cadets, formerly students at Colonel Huse's academy, where the shooting occurred; the surgeon who attended Thompson, Colonel Huse and his son, Buck, and Thomp-son. The prosecution proved the facts of the shooting as already known. The defence claimed that Buck had been subjected to all sorts of indignities and insults from the moment of his arrival at the school, Thompson being the leading spirit; that Buck was gentle, civif, and inoffensive, and Buck was gentle, civif, and inoffensive, and left available to avail toyable; that he had left available to avail toyable; that he had left available to available to a left a left available to a the shooting as already known. The desought to avoid trouble; that he had left school and gone to board at a private house to get out of the way of his termenters, and that the iedignities were pushed to such an extent as to become unbearable, and caused Buck to be seriously apprehensive for his personal safety. The defence claimed and Buck destried that Thompson was the aggressor on the morning of the shooting, and occupilly memoring of the shooting, and occupilly memoring Buck at the time of the affing. Couns el for defence presented testimonus of good character in favor of Buck from a clergyman, teachers, and other residents of Dalias county, Texas. The case was summed up for the defence this afternoon by Charles H. Winfield, of this afternoon by Cherles H. Winfield, of New York, and for the presecution this evening by ex Judee Stephen W. Pullerton, of New York. The jury retixed at 8:50. They returned to the court room after being out an hour and ten minutes, and returned a verdict of acquittal. The amountement was received with applicuse and cheers, and on adjournment of the court Buck received many congretulations, including those of members of the jury and ladies. One of the latter affectionately embraced the Texac. Buck at once telegraphed to his father at Hillsboro', Texas.

A Student Shot and Killed While At-tempting Burglary. Lawrence, Mass., April 13.—Early this morning Abiel Witson, residing on the Salem turnpike, was awakened by footsteps in his bouse. Soon after his chamber door was burst open by two persons, when Witson discharged a rife, shooting one of the intruders. Both fied, but the dead body of the one shot by Witson was found a short distance from the house and arrested to be distance from the house, and proved to be that of Arthur Foster, a student at the Phelps Academy. His accomplice was his twin brother, Luther, also a student. The made a full confession. They were residents of North Audover, Mass., and have most respectable connections. Three weeks previously they had attempted to enter the same place.

Further lovestigation of the crime and its tragic result shows that Arthur Foster was a theological student studying for the mining its Phelos Academy be intended to enter the Phelos Academy be intended to enter the Andover Theological Seminary. By the confession of the surviving brother it ap-

MONG A GREAT SHIP-LOAD OF PEOPLE.-THE BREAD DISEASE ON THE LORD CLIVE IN THE MIDST OF OVER KIGHT HUNDRED PERSONS.

(Philadelphia Times, 14th.)
A widespread feeling of excitement was occasioned yesterday morning when it became generally known that the steamship Lord Clive, of the American Line, baving on board 724 steerage passengers and two in the saloon, besides a crew comprising ninetyfive men, had been ordered into quarantine by Port Physician Philip Leidy because of the fact, as reported by the physician of the the fact, as reported by the physician of the steamer, that there was small-pox aboard. The office of Peter Wright & Sons, on Walnut street above Third, the agents of the line, was visited during the day by a number of persons inquiring about the quarantined ship. The steamer arrived on Tuesday night about 8 o'clock, and was immediately decked, and though all the passenmediately docked, and though all the passengers were ordered to remain on the steamer, and all others were prohibited from going on board, for the reason, as given, that neither the customs inspectors nor the port physician had as yet visited the steamer, there was not the faintest whisper heard anywhere that anything was wrong, and passengers chatted and shook hands over the bulwark with friends on the wharf the bulwark with friends on the wharf without the faintest apparent suspicion on cither side that so dreadful a thing as small-pox was within a few feet of them.

The vessel lay at her moorings all night, and in the morning the port physician, who visited the steamer and learned of the disease, sent word to the Board of Health explaining the state of affairs, ordered the vessel into quarantine, and had it thoroughly tunigated. Health-Officer Addicks sent word to the Municipal Hospital for the means of transporting the stricken means of attendants, were sent in one, and their bedding and wearing-apparel and everything portable belonging to them were sent to the hospital in the second. Everything was done quickly and quietly, and, except the few who recognized in the fact of the presence of the portentous ambu-tances at so stange a place as a steamship good was taking place, no one was any the wiser. The steamer then slowly drew out into midstream and east anchor or posite Reed street, far enough away from the portance of the subject, and numerous plans thickly built-up portion of the city to dis-were suggested whereby the desired object pel fear of spreading the contagion.

Joseph A. Bonham, Esq., the well-known lawyer, 117 south Seventh street, Philadelphis, Penn., thus relates his experience "About two weeks ago I was seized with what the doctors called muscular rheumatism in my right leg. The leg below the knee was swollen until I could hadly stand upon it. I had seen St. Jacobs Oil advertised, and I sent to the drugstore near my house, on the corner of Nineteenth and Master streets, for a bottle of it. I rubbed my leg with it that night, and in a short i time the pain seemed to go away. morning the swelling had shifted from toder the ankle to the upper part of the knee. I applied the Oil again and the swelling in a short time went away, leaving a very slight pain. I didn't use any more Oil, as I thought the attack was all over. About a week later it appeared again in the same place. The leg swelled so badly that after coming down town and walking several squares I gave completely out. I went home, intending to try some French medicine, but I forgot to get it, and having a part of this bottle of St. Jacobs Oil in the house yet I tried it again, land railroad will be the recognized line of this system for Baltimore business, and arrangements will be made to build up and encourage traffic to the fullest extent. that time to this I haven't been troubled."
